PUBLICATIONS

SAMPLE PAPERS PRESENTED
& INVITED ADDRESSES

Cappuccitti, A., Cho, R., Dreger, A., Stiff, H., Hernandez Jarvis, L. Fraley, G., Graham, L. Physiological and Psychological Anxiety Levels in Dancers During Performance Compared to Rehearsal. Poster presented at the Psi Chi session of the MidWestern Psychological Association, May 2012. Regional Undergraduate Research Award winner project

Hernandez Jarvis, L. Latino Youth Leadership Conference. Proud to be Latina: It's all in the frijoles. Invited address. Conference organized by Latin Americans United for Progress in Holland, MI, February, 2010

Mehari, K., Roehling, V. P., & Hernandez Jarvis, L. Effects of parenting on externalizing behaviors among Latino(a) and White adolescents: Ethnicity as a moderator. Paper to be presented at the Julian Samora Research Institute Conference. Lansing, MI, November 2009.

Mehari, K., Roehling, V. P., & Hernandez Jarvis, L. Effects of parenting on externalizing behaviors among Latino(a) and White adolescents: Ethnicity as a moderator. Paper presented at the Psi Chi session of the American Psychological Association Annual meeting, August, 2009. This paper was a winner of the Psi Chi national undergraduate research competition.

Hernandez Jarvis, L. & Holton, J. Can the use of “tu” and “usted” lead to higher prosocial behavior? Paper accepted for presentation at the 6th International symposium in Bilingualism, Hamburg, Germany, June 2007.

Blout, J. & Bredow, A. Differential Effects: Acculturation, Ethnic Identity, and Acculturative Stress Among Latino Subgroups. This paper was an award winner at the Psi Chi regional undergraduate research competition. Midwestern Psychological Association annual conference. Chicago, IL. May 2006.

Hanba, J., & Jarvis, L. H. Is a Japple an Apple: How phonological similarity overrides the use of mutual exclusivity. This paper was an award winner at the Psi Chi regional undergraduate research competition. Midwestern Psychological Association annual conference. Chicago, IL: May 2002.

Hernandez Jarvis, L. Los efectos de la similitud fonológica en el principio de exclusividad mutua. Invited presentation. School of Modern Languages, graduate program, Autonomous University of Queretaro, Mexico, August 2001.