

Legacies: A Vision of Hope

The Martha Miller Center for Global Communication and campus development

The building will house the departments of modern and classical languages and communication, and the offices of international education and multicultural life.

The emphasis is on synergy: on ways that the four programs can interrelate, finding connections that will make them even stronger together than they are individually.

The building is scheduled to open with the start of the 2005-06 school year.

When the Martha Miller Center is completed, space in Graves and Lubbers halls will be available for other departments also in need of additional room.

A variety of campus improvements have already been completed, including the construction of new weight and exercise rooms, and of two new dance studios, in the Dow Center, and the restoration of the stained glass windows and mortar joints of Dimnent Memorial Chapel.

Additional campus projects planned include the renovation of Graves and Lubbers halls, and the restoration of the chapel's Skinner organ.

Every gift matters—please help now!

Launched in the fall of 2000, the $105 million Legacies campaign will conclude at the end of December. Hope needs your support to fully realize the campaign's real goal: to sustain and enhance, in a lasting way, the outstanding educational experience the college provides to the leaders of tomorrow. To participate, please choose the option that works best for you:

...return the enclosed gift reply envelope

...give online

You may now make a gift online. Visit Hope's secure giving page, where you can make a one-time gift at www.hope.edu/giving/online/ and view additional information about giving to Hope.

...give by phone

Call the Office of College Advancement at (616) 395-7865. Have your credit card ready, and a member of the staff can take the gift by phone.

...mail a check or money order (payable to Hope College) to:
